API's National Property Conference

A Century in the Making

In API's 100th year, the National Property Conference brings the profession together at the Melbourne Cricket Ground for two full days of high-value, technical CPD. With an expanded program and centenary social events, this milestone conference offers an exceptional opportunity to learn, connect, and celebrate.

Our flagship, multi-day event will feature an exhibition area, welcome reception, and centenary-themed gala dinner, alongside a comprehensive technical program.

Most importantly, it provides a rare opportunity for professionals to connect, learn, and advance their careers within a single, high-impact forum.

Australia's Property Authority Since 1926

The Australian Property Institute is the leading contemporary membership body representing Australia's property community. We set professional standards, deliver education and provide the premier networking platform for property professionals.

Our Members Include:

- Certified Practicing Valuers (CPV)
- Property advisers & analysts
- Fund managers & institutional investors
- Property lawyers & researchers
- Young Property Professionals (YPP) - the industry's future leaders
- Students & emerging professionals

Event Partner & Exhibitor Opportunities

The 2026 National Property Conference offers a rare opportunity to align your brand with Australia's peak gathering of property professionals in API's centenary year. Event Partner and Exhibitor opportunities are designed to deliver high-value visibility, meaningful engagement, and direct access to senior decision-makers across the property ecosystem. Partners connect with a national audience of over 8,000 API members spanning residential, commercial and industrial property – from emerging professionals to executive leadership.

From exclusive, high-profile partnerships to targeted engagement and experiential activations, each opportunity is built to support clear commercial and brand objectives. All partnerships are limited in number to ensure strong brand presence and genuine audience connection. Opportunities are offered on a first-confirmed basis.
